Dear Mr. Trevelyan:

I am returning you the manuscript which you were kind enough to leave with me in order that selections might be made from it for the war issue of our students' journal. These have now been made, and the magazine number will soon be printed. We are greatly indebted to you for your kindness in allowing us to use part of this article. When the publication has been issued I will have a copy sent to you.

I hope that you have arrived safely in England. We look back with pleasure to your short visit to Toronto, the only regret being that you were not able to come when the students were here. With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
